1. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-3,5-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kiyota in view of DE 3800476 as cited by applicant and Komiya.

Kiyota discloses rotation control circuit of motor comprising pwm control circuit of motor, rotational speed sensor of motor, reference signal generation circuit; phase comparing circuit and divider for dividing detected rotational speed signal of motor wherein phase difference between signal from divider and signal based on reference signal is sought with said phase comparing unit and phase difference signal is supplied to said pwm control circuit, see fig 1 #11,23,13,16,22 . Kiyota lacks disclosing posture control for vehicle body and plural motors. DE 3800476 discloses posture control for vehicle body; see abstract and col 3 lines 11-col 5 lines 35 and figs 1-5. Komiya discloses plural motors, see fig 1. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the rotation control of Kiyota with posture control of DE 3800476 and plural motors of Komiya for improved control.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Komiya discloses rotation control circuit of motor, rotation command signal output means to said motor; reference signal generation circuit, phase comparing circuit and divider for dividing command signal to motor; wherein phase difference between signal from said divider and signal based on said reference signal is sought with phase comparing unit and phase difference signal supplied to pwm control circuit, see fig 1 #1,2,4,5,7.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kawagosh and Sunaga et al disclose rotation control circuit of motor with pwm and phase difference.
